

Our 2023 ACGME Survey Results Are In - Now What?

Tuesday, June 6, 2023 ~ 1:00-2:00 p.m. Eastern

In January 2023, we presented a webinar entitled, "Navigating the 2023 ACGME Survey," designed to prepare all of us for the 21st annual administration of the Resident/Fellow and Faculty Survey. In May/June 2023, the ACGME will share survey results. In order to maximize formative feedback and value, programs and institutions need to consider the following:

- How do you analyze your survey data?
- How do you share and discuss results?
- What success have you had in developing action plans to address low scoring responses?
- How has the survey led to program quality improvements?

We will explore these and other related questions to help programs and institutions maximize the impact of the ACGME survey to continuously improve the clinical learning environment.

Objectives:

At the conclusion of the session, learners should be able to:

- Analyze program and institutional survey results, including trend data and specialty-specific comparisons;
- Organize your approach to sharing and discussing survey results with all stakeholders; and,
- Strategize how to utilize survey results to formulate action plans and improve program quality.
