Regularly Scheduled Series for Learning and Change: Leveraging the ACCME Criteria to Provide Strategic Value to Your Institution

Tuesday, June 7, 2011 ~ 1:00-2:00 p.m. Eastern

- A price-conscious, practical webinar appropriate for CME directors, CME committee members, activity directors and those working with CME accreditation.

Objectives

At the end of this Webinar, the learner should be able to...

- Appreciate the ACCME Criteria as a "change algorithm" that can help address practice-based problems of their physicians, care teams, and institutions
- Gain insights from the effective (and creative!) approaches other accredited providers have taken through planning and implementing RSS
- Develop specific approaches to streamline and simplify both planning and documentation processes associated with their RSS activities
- Revisit RSS as an important element in their institution's overall effort to utilize CME as a Bridge to Quality™

Agenda

1:00p – 1:15p ACCME Criteria as a Change Algorithm presented by Steve Singer, Ph.D.

1:15p – 1:50p Case Discussion with Panelists

- Brad Halvorsen – Director of CME – University of Utah School of Medicine
- Joanna Cunningham – Manager, Medical Education – Phoenix Children's Hospital
- Crystal Gyiraszin, MS – System Director, CME – Henry Ford Health System
- Sue Mullen – Director of CME – Baptist Health System

1:50p – 2:00p Question & Answer Period

Faculty--Steve Singer, PhD is the Director of Education and Outreach at the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME) in Chicago, where he oversees development of programs and resources to support the national system of accredited CME providers. He will be joined by a panel of CME institutional providers.

Moderator--Robert D'Antuono, MHA, is an AHME board member, CCME Chair-Elect and Director of Continuing Medical Education at Winthrop University Hospital.
